

World Phenomenology Institute (WPI)
Manuscript Guidelines
For Analecta Husserliana (ANHU) and
Islamic Philosophy and Occidental Phenomenology in Dialogue (IPOP)

At the recommendation of our publisher, Springer, the World Phenomenology Institute is adopting Springer's manuscript guidelines for its journals. Springer's guidelines are based on the Chicago Manual of Style.

To see Springer's requirements, authors should click on the link immediately below.

Manuscript Form Requirements for Submission:

1. Papers should be double-spaced, with 1-inch / 25-millimeter margins on all sides.
2. Times New Roman, 12 point font is required.
3. The first page of the article should include the following in the order given below, flush left:
 - Title of Paper
 - Author's Name
 - Abstract
 - Keywords
 - First Paragraph of Text
4. Please submit your paper as a Word document. You do not need to submit the article as a PDF; however, you may wish to also include a PDF depending on the layout of your paper – for instance if there are images.
5. Pages should be numbered with Arabic numerals in the upper right hand corner.
6. The name of the author's institutional affiliation and the author's email address should appear at the end of the article.
7. All submissions will be peer-reviewed by the appropriate Editorial Board of the World Phenomenology Institute for our three journals.
8. All articles should be submitted electronically to the World Phenomenology Institute, whose e-mail address is office@phenomenology.org.
9. Articles that are NOT prepared strictly according to the Springer's manuscript guidelines will not be accepted by the editorial boards of the WPI. Articles prepared according to other styles will not be accepted for publication consideration.

In addition, authors should include the following with their manuscript submissions:

1. Abstract

An abstract of your paper (10-15 lines long), titled “Abstract,” should precede your essay. Avoid using notes in this section.

2. Keywords

In a section titled “Keywords,” provide 5 to 10 keywords, separated by commas. A single phrase equals one keyword. (Springer Publishing has asked our authors to provide a list of keywords for database research. In publication, the keywords will appear online on a metadata page before the essay, but not in the published book.) The list of keywords should follow the abstract.

Cosmo-Transcendental Positioning of the Living Being in the Universe in Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka’s New Enlightenment

Jadwiga S. Smith.

Abstract The latest focus of Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka on the phenomenological investigation of transcendentalism is placed in the context of modern science, taking into account the fact that the compartmentalization of science, so beloved by positivist thinkers of the nineteenth century, has not yielded the expected answers to the questions of the nature of human consciousness, and that neither has the Husserlian transcendental reduction since it does not resolve the problem of the dichotomy of matter and mind. Tymieniecka’s inclusion of cosmos is the most important component of her search for rationality as tied to the evolutionary progress of nature and the emergence of human creativity as the stimulus to the development of human culture with its aesthetic, moral, and intellectual senses. These intellectual senses and their corresponding passions have been the subject of numerous volumes of the Analecta Husserliana series.

According to Tymieniecka’s philosophy, Imaginatio Creatrix liberates the human spirit from one-sided dependence on nature and opens it to the acts of interpretation of organic processes.

The creative act is an act of self-individualization. Moreover, the evolution of the universe is to be seen as fundamentally connected to the process of self-individualization.
